2017 NLP Practitioner Training Program

Program Description

Neurolinguistic Programming (NLP) has often been described as the art and science of human excellence through the study of subjective experience. NLP studies patterns of excellence and exceptional performance to discover what works well and how one can model that performance to produce similar results? The NLP Practitioner training program offers you the opportunity to discover how to make positive changes in the way you think, feel, act and the results you produce in the world. You will also learn how to facilitate positive changes in the lives of others both personally and professionally. You will learn how to be more effective at achieving your outcomes while enjoying high quality communication and relationships along the way.

NLP provides tools and skills for the development of states of individual excellence, but it also establishes a system of empowering beliefs and presuppositions about what human beings are, what communication is and what the process of change is all about. At another level, NLP is about self-discovery, exploring identity and mission. It also provides a framework for understanding and relating to the 'spiritual' part of human experience that reaches beyond us as individuals to our family, community and global systems. NLP is not only about competence and excellence, it is about wisdom and vision.

The NLP Practitioner training program is ideal for professionals who want to increase their personal effectiveness, communication skills and leadership skills. For change-workers such as counselors, therapists, energy workers, body workers, etc. NLP is an ideal set of models and skill sets to enhance and enrich the methods you're already using. And for individuals who are interested in personal growth and transformation, there will be many opportunities to transform limitations into sources of strength, wisdom and resilience.
